Women are doing much of the world's work nowadays, and do ing it well, and managing to take just as good care of their husbands and children as their mothers and grandmothers did. The suffrage will give them additional power to protect the home and loved ones. Evil has been allowed to assume great proportions, because the vast majority of the moral and religious element has been prevented from exer-cising control, while the victous element has been given unlimited power.

The New York legislature has just given school suffrage to women and the bill his been signed by Gove Flower. Over half the states now permit women to exercise the privilege of voting on all matters connected with the public schools. Two women delegates from Wyoming had seats in the Minneapolis convention. If it had been said four years ago that women would vote this year in a national presidential convention it would not have been credited. It would not be surprising if one or more additional states should be ready to send woman delegates four years hence. By a on woman suffrage in the British house of commons, a few days ago, it was lost by a majority of 48-cut of 527 votes, notwithstanding Gladstone came out with a letter in opposition. The Woman's Liberal league, of England, is a powerful political factor, and Gladstone is its president. It is believed that he has made a serious mistake. No person who follows this question closely, watching the indications in all quarters can fail to be impressed with the belief that public sentiment is growing in its favor, and that it is slowiy, but steadily gaining grounds in aft quarters.—Locomotive Firemen's Maga-
